

IAC-AIF Privacy Policy

Information shared with the Intertribal Agriculture Council (IAC) - American Indian Foods Program (AIF) and its agencies is not used in ways other than that which are clearly intended when the information is shared. Personally identifiable information, including addresses, e-mail addresses, and telephone numbers, are not published, sold, rented or otherwise distributed.

Individuals who contact IAC-AIF for business or non-consumer related purposes, or who are requesting specific information that is related but not directly within the purview of IAC-AIF, may have their message forwarded to an appropriate organization, such as those within the industry, research, government or education system, who can assist them. Such transfers are rare, done on an individual basis, and done in the best interest of serving users at the American Indian Foods Pages

THE INTERTRIBAL AGRICULTURE COUNCIL DOES NOT ACCUMULATE PERSONALLY IDENTIFYING INFORMATION FOR THE PURPOSE OF DISTRIBUTION TO ANY THIRD PARTY FOR ANY PURPOSE WHATSOEVER.

Persons who contact the Intertribal Agriculture Council or any of their programs, may have their first name, city and state of residence, photography or artwork published in the IAC-AIF pages, and/or used for any other promotional or advertising uses including uses beyond those related to the Internet. The IAC-AIF DOES NOT publish last names, addresses, e-mail addresses, telephone numbers, or personally identifying photography without prior approval from the person whose personal information is to be published, and only if that person is 18 years of age or older, or permission is received from a parent or guardian.

NEWSLETTERS

Individuals who would like to be included on any IAC-AIF e-mail list must sign themselves up for that list or agree to be included when participating in a contest and may unsubscribe at any time. Information collected through e-mail list subscription is used for no other purpose than to facilitate the delivery of the specific IAC-AIF newsletter the user has subscribed to.

ADVERTISING

IAC-AIF may use email address to engage with subscribers on the Intertribal Agriculture Council or the American Indian Foods social media platforms, including Facebook, Instagram or Pinterest. Subscribers may unsubscribe from IAC-AIF newsletters at any time and may hide any social media advertisements that are viewable. IAC-AIF will not share or sell this subscriber information to any third party at any time.

WEBSITE ANALYTICS

IAC-AIF utilizes Google Analytics to understand and refine the type of information found on the pages of IAC-AIF websites. Visit Google Analytics privacy statement to learn how they protect your personal information. The identification of visitors and page visits are used privately by IAC-AIF to improve the user experience and is never shared with nor sold to any third party.

IDENTITY AND DATA INFORMATION

Contact IAC-AIF to request information about data and information that may be held by IAC-AIF, recognizing that no information has been nor will be shared with a third party for the purpose of reaching users.

U.S. SUPPLIERS AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

Contact information we collect from you, such as your name, organization name, address, phone number, and email address, is used to help verify your eligibility to participate in our programs. This information, as well as information we collect from you through surveys, is used for targeted marketing purposes. Other information we collect from you, such as credit card numbers, marketing plans and export data, and evaluation results from your participation in our programs, is used for program execution and management purposes.

INTERNATIONAL BUYERS OF U.S. FOODS

Contact information we collect from you, such as your name, organization name, address, phone number, and email address, is used to help verify your eligibility to participate in our programs. Your information is shared with suppliers who submit a request to locate products in the U.S.A. through our American Indian Foods Program.

SHARING OF INFORMATION

A significant portion of IAC-AIF's funding is provided through the Market Access Program, which is administered by the USDA, Foreign Agricultural Service. Information gathered from our Website may be reported in aggregate to the USDA Foreign Agricultural Service to help maintain funding for our programs and services. Company contact information may also be shared.